03 Search Scopes

When adding a citation through search, there are a few scope options available under the “Search in” drop-down menu.

- Everything
  The Everything scope searches materials found in the Library Catalog, including books and ebooks, journals, maps, government documents, films, musical scores, manuscripts, photos, special collection items, and course reserve items, plus citations and full-text articles from 200+ databases. It contains a broad range of resources, so it is a helpful starting point for cross-disciplinary searching.

- Catalog
  The Catalog scope searches materials found in the UC Davis Library Catalog, including books and ebooks, journals, maps, government documents, films, musical scores, manuscripts, photos, special collection items, and course reserve items.

- Special Collections
  The Special Collections scope searches all materials held by Special Collections, including many rare and unique items.

- Course Reserves
  The Course Reserves scope searches all items in course reserves for the current term.
